

Trinity Dix, MEd

Community Representative, Claremont, NH

Trinity Dix is a community representative from Claremont, NH, who has resided in Claremont for the past 12 years. As a community organizer for the United Valley Interfaith Project, she spends her time connecting with individuals to better understand the community, identify areas of concern, and champion programs that support the well-being of residents. Trinity also works as a part-time coordinator for Healthy Vibrant Claremont and as a Neighborhood Revitalization Project Coordinator in Claremont. Prior to these roles, Trinity was an event planner for Advancement at Dartmouth College where she worked to keep alumni, family and friends engaged while promoting the work of faculty, students and alumni.

Born and raised in southern Vermont, Trinity earned a BA and MEd from Elmira College, in NY, before returning to New England. She is currently pursuing a degree in Mortuary Science. In her free time, she enjoys raising her two young boys, listening to music and travelling.
